Influence over Children.

Mrs. A. A. L., Kennebunk, writes: "Grown up men and women cannot be too careful in their intercourse with children, and they should endeavor to mould their minds aright. How often the thought arises in my mind, could the money expended by each person for tobacco be expended for good useful books and handy tools for the boys and girls, how much happiness would it impart to them, and how much happiness would it impart to them, and how much happiness would be reflected back upon their parents. The children would be less inclined to leave home, and leave their parents lonely and disconsolate in their declining years. To Polish Marble.

By request, we republish the following method of cleansing and polishing marble, alabaster &c. Marble, alabaster, glass, or any kind of hard stone, may-be re-polished by rubbing in with a linen cloth dressed with oxide of tin (sold under the name of putty powder.) In polishing a mantlepiece, it should first be thoroughly cleansed. This is best done by making a paste of lime, soda and water, well wetting the marble, and applying the paste. Then let it remain for a day or so, keeping it moist during the interval. When this paste has been removed the polishing may begin.

a straw for assistance, I seized upon the idea, and arose to my feet with fresh courage.

I came to the conclusion that if it was good for the lungs of horses, it must be good for those of man. Accordingly, I determined to make the experiment. I had about two ounces of the herb, which was all there was this side of the Alleghanies. I prepared some of it as I thought best, and commenced taking it three times a day, a teaspoonful at a time, one hour before eating. Under this treatment my health began to improve. The pressure at my lungs was, very soon relieved, and my breathing became easy and natural. All my difficulties seemed to be fast leaving me. My sleep soon became sweet and refreshing, my appetite
